

Note. Nipples are color coded according to the category of variability. Nipples with low variability (less than 10%) are green, moderate variability (10-20%) are red, and high variability (more than 20%) are black.